Re: *Hemenway & Barnes LLP and Hemenway Trust Company
Security Incident Notification*

Dear Sir or Madam:

We are writing on behalf of our client, Hemenway & Barnes LLP and Hemenway Trust Company ("Hemenway"), to notify you of a security incident involving one Montana resident. Hemenway does not waive its objection that Montana lacks personal jurisdiction related to this matter.

On September 1, 2018, Hemenway discovered that an unauthorized person gained access to some of its employees' email accounts. When Hemenway learned about the unauthorized access, it immediately secured the email accounts, began an investigation and engaged a leading forensic firm. Hemenway conducted a thorough review of the email accounts and determined on October 24, 2018 that an email or email attachment in one of the accounts contained personal information that included the name and Social Security number of one Montana resident.

Beginning today, November 2, 2018, Hemenway is mailing a notification letter by U.S. Mail to the potentially affected Montana resident, in accordance with Mont. Code Ann. § 30-14-1704, in substantially the form as the enclosed letter. Hemenway is available to speak with potentially affected individuals and has offered one year of free credit monitoring services to potentially affected individuals.

To help prevent something like this from happening in the future, Hemenway continues to enhance its cybersecurity defenses and procedures to detect improper access to its systems.
